

Indiana ranks in the bottom third of the 50 states in voter turnout. Only 58% of the eligible voting population in Indiana voted in the 2016 presidential election.*

That percentage is totally unacceptable!

Redistricting should not be in the hands of politicians!

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

RECLAIM, RE-ENERGIZE, & REVAMP DEMOCRACY

As Secretary of State, I will pursue a nonpartisan approach to:

- Dramatically increase voter participation in the state of Indiana. This will be done across all age, gender, ethnic, religious and secular demographic groups;
- Establish election day as a statewide holiday;
- Facilitate legal voter registration across all demographic groups, provide same-day registration;
- Expand early voting opportunities;
- Eliminate obstacles to voting, end voter suppression; and
- End gerrymandering by establishing a nonpartisan citizen's redistricting commission to redraw voting districts to make them fair and competitive to participating political parties.

Only a Secretary of State that is from outside the two major political parties can accomplish these ambitious goals and restore public faith and confidence in our democracy.
